DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The amendments, filed 02/16/2006, have been entered and made of record. Claims 30-40 are pending. The Applicant submitted terminal disclaimer, and therefore the non-statutory double patenting rejections of claims 30-40 are hereby withdrawn.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed on 02/16/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. See the new ground(s) of rejections set below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 32-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. There is no means recited in these claims that can perform the recording function. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 30-31, and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims are directed to a recording medium storing nonfunctional descriptive material.

Data structures not claimed as embodied in computer-readable media are descriptive material per se and are not statutory because they are neither physical "things" nor statutory processes. See, e.g. Warmerdam, 33 F. 3d at 1361, 31 USPQ2d at 1760 (claim to a data structure per se held nonstatutory) and merely claiming nonfunctional descriptive material stored in a computer-readable medium does not make it statutory. In addition a mere arrangements or compilations of facts or data, are merely stored so as to be read or outputted by a computer without creating any functional interrelationship either as part of the stored data or as part of the computing processes performed by the computer then such descriptive material alone does not impart functionality either to the data as so structured, or to the computer, and therefore are not statutory. See MPEP 2106.IV.B.1.

Art Unit: 2621

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 30-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Murase (US Pat. NO. 6,285,826).

Regarding claim 30, Murase discloses an information storage medium comprising;
an audio recording area configured to store audio information of tunes or music in unit of a track (see figures 1-4, col. 9 lines 1-8, col. 20 lines 33-59 and col. 23 lines 33-42), a still picture recording area configured to store one or more pieces of still picture information relating to said audio information (see fig. 3, col. 9 lines 1-8 and 18-22), and a management area configured to store management information with respect to the track of said audio information (see col. 14 lines 21-52);

said management area including program chain information configured to control a reproduction sequence of said audio information in accordance with an order of recording said audio information (see col. 14 lines 21-52), and user-defined program chain information configured to control another reproduction sequence of said audio information, said another reproduction sequence being free of the recording order of said audio information (see col. 9 line 58-col. 10 line 3, col. 24 line 28-32 and figures 43 and 44);

and said user-defined program chain information including still picture designation information configured to designate one or more pieces of said still picture information (see col. 26 line 61-col. 27 line 10).

Regarding claim 31, Murase discloses the one or more pieces of said still picture information designated by said still picture designation information includes a representative picture of the audio information in unit of said track (see col. 9 lines 1-8, 23-27, col. 19 lines 6-10, 43-48, A-PART-SZ).

Regarding claims 32 and 33, Murase discloses, the recorded information including said entry point information (see figures 31-33 and 43-45).

Regarding claims 34 and 35, Murase discloses the reproduced information including said entry point information (see col. 23 lines 44-58, col. 24 lines 28-44 and figures 43-45).

Regarding claims 36-39 see Murase figures 43-44.

Regarding claim 40, the limitation of claim 40 can be found in claim 30 above. Therefore claim 40 is analyzed and rejected for the same reason as discussed in claim 30.

Double Patenting

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

1. A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

2. Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claims 30-31, and 36-40 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending Application No. 09/911462. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the reasons sets forth below.

The limitation of claim 30 is cited in claims 30 and 34 of application 09/911462.

The limitations of claim 31 is cited in claims 30 and 34 of application 09/911462.

The limitations of claims 36-39 are cited in claims 33 and 34 of application 09/911462.

The limitation of claim 40 is cited in claim 35 of application 09/911462.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

10. Claims 30-40 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending Application No. 09/911391.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the reasons sets forth below.

The limitation of claims 30-31 are cited in claim 47 of application 09/911391.

The limitation of claims 32-33 are cited in claim 34 of application 09/911391.

The limitations of claim 34-35 are cited in claim 37 of application 09/911391.

The limitations of claim 36-37 are cited in claim 40 of application 09/911391.

The limitations of claim 38-39 are cited in claim 49 of application 09/911391

The limitation of claim 40 is cited in claim 49 of application 09/911391.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.
